

Owens Names Ex-CIA Aide

Carrico

Louis G. Carrico will become assistant to the president of D. N. Owens Co., an office equipment supplying and consulting firm in Washington. A veteran of 32 years in government, he retired last month as chief of the Central Intelligence Agency Records Administration staff. For his work at CIA, he received a certificate of honor from the International Administrative Management Society last September. He is a native of Maryland and a graduate of the University of Maryland.